

25 February 1952

Detailed report of the results of CAMUSO I, II, and III.

1. This report is for your full operational use; no formal report will be issued and dissemination of this report is limited to personnel specifically designated to accept its accuracy. Reports are continued with extra copy for separate file.

2. Reliability estimate: For Camuso I the results are estimated to be "reliable", and for Camuso II "fairly reliable" in the scale of "reliable", "fairly reliable", and "unreliable".

3. Results for CAMUSO I:

Subject has apparently answered the following questions truthfully as shown:

Is it your main purpose to liberate your homeland from the Communists? Yes.
(Note: Subject stated he knew [] had been from abroad since []

Since the last time, have you said anyone that you are []? No.
Since the last time, have you written any letters? Yes.
Since last September, have you written any letter that [] can read? No.

Do you intend to become a member of []? No.
Do the people you visit at [] and you have a Communist []? No.
Since last September have you met a Communist agent? No.
Since you have been studying in school, have you had []? No.
Was your father a []? No.
Did you know your [] is anyone? No.
Are you married? No.

Questions [] distinguished the subject:

Do you remember the year 1941? Yes.
Did Gulevskis compile a list of persons to be shot? Yes.
Was your name in the list Gulevskis compiled known of persons to be shot?
These questions caused sufficient sensitivity on the part of the subject to indicate some mild degree of deception.
C. O. has a concern in the view that this is probably a case of exaggeration. Subject was not pressed on the point because of the morale factor involved.

4. Results for CAMUSO II:

Subject has apparently answered the following questions truthfully as shown:

Is it your main purpose to deliver your fatherland from the Communists? Yes.
(Note: In the earlier tests last September subject was very sensitive to this question. This sensitivity has now disappeared to a very great degree. At the time subject alleged he was sensitive because he felt a great desire to accomplish this; be that as it may, the subject no longer disturbs him. (Not following question also.)
